

Tiny Hands, Endless Love

[Intro]

Before the sunrise painted the sky,
A brand-new story quietly began.
Love gathered close before a single word was spoken.

[Verse 1]

At 3:07 on a peaceful July morning,
A little miracle opened bright and curious eyes.
Eight pounds, eight ounces of wonder and promise,
As every heartbeat whispered, "Welcome home."
The room was filled with joyful tears and gentle smiles,
While weary hearts discovered they had room for even more love.

[Verse 2]

Heather held you close, already counting precious memories,
Knowing her camera would soon overflow with your smiling face.
She laughed through happy tears, steady as ever,
Carrying the quiet strength everyone knows so well.
Beside her stood Daddy Terence, full of hope,
A hardworking heart already dreaming of tomorrow.
He looked into your eyes and saw a lifetime waiting,
The kind of love that grows stronger with every passing season.

[Pre-Chorus]

Somewhere a proud heart is smiling today.
A little of Brad lives on through the laughter,
Through the courage, the family,
And the love that keeps growing from one generation to the next.

[Chorus]

Tiny hands, endless love,
Holding every heart without even knowing.
Every smile becomes tomorrow's treasure,
Every moment becomes a story we'll tell.
Tiny hands, endless love,
Our family feels a little brighter today.

[Verse 3]

Sixteen years have quietly flown,
And now a big brother begins a brand-new adventure.
Between Texas Roadhouse shifts, pool games,
His driver's permit, his girlfriend, and a favorite cat,
He has discovered the greatest title of all—
Someone a little brother will always admire.
One day they'll laugh together, learn together,
And make memories only brothers can share.

[Bridge]

Grandma Tammy says she won't spoil you...
The whole family smiles because everyone knows better.
Her love has always been the place where hearts feel safe,
And now another little boy has found his way there.

[Final Chorus]

Tiny hands, endless love,
Holding every heart without even knowing.
Heather will fill another album with your smiles,
Terence will cheer for every little victory along the way.
Big Brother will always be nearby,
Grandma's hugs will never be in short supply.
Tiny hands, endless love,
Today is only the beginning.

[Outro]

May laughter always find your home.
May kindness guide each step you take.
May every year remind this family
How beautiful this morning will always be.

Welcome, sweet Kyree.
You have been loved from your very first hello.

(Lyrics created by, Joel Anderson)